CHRIST AND LIFE AFTER DEATH (EASTER)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:24-27; 1 Corinthians 15:20-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.—1 Corinthians 15:27.

V for Victory! By that sign have many peoples indicated their confidence in a victory to come. It is well to have a victorious outlook, but it is even better to be able to look back to victory already attained. That is just what we are able to do as we consider the great and final enemy—death. That victory has been won on behalf of all who believe, by the risen Christ, of whom we think in a special way this Easter day.

He is the Lord of the living, not of the dead; those who, even though they may have left this world, are only laid aside the corruptible body for the incorruptible. They are victorious, even as we are, over death.

I. Living, Not Dead (Mark 12:24-27).

The Sadducees, a rationalistic sect of Christ's day, denied the resurrection, and so they were much distressed by His plan teaching of that truth. They therefore devised an intricate hypothetical case (see Mark 12:18-23) and sought to set a trap for Him. But they only caught themselves, for He told them that what was wrong with them was that they did not understand the Scriptures nor the power of God.

That is precisely what is wrong with the modernists of our day—they misinterpret God's Word, and they deny His power.

Then Jesus turned to them and in place of their fantastic "supposing" story He spoke of three real characters from the books of Moses which they taught. He said that God still calls Himself the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, because though they had long been in their graves, they were still alive. God's fellowship with His people is not merely for the brief life span of this earth, but for eternity. That fact, of course, carries with it the truth of the resurrection.

II. Incorruptible, Not Corruptible (1 Cor. 15:20-22).

Man knows that his earthly body is marked for decay and death. That fact is written in their very members. He also knows that such a body would be entirely inappropriate for heaven—forever. Is he then barred from God's eternal kingdom? No, indeed, for there is to be a glorious change—the corruptible shall put on incorruptibility.

Whether we shall tarry until Jesus comes, or whether we shall await our dying, or whether we shall come to His coming for a time among those who sleep, there will come that trumpet sound, and in the twinkling of an eye we shall be clothed upon with incorruptible bodies like unto His glorious resurrection body (1 Cor. 15:21).

There we have an assurance of victory already won on our behalf, which can and does strengthen our souls against the trials and sorrows of life.

III. Victorious, Not Defeated (1 Cor. 15:53-58).

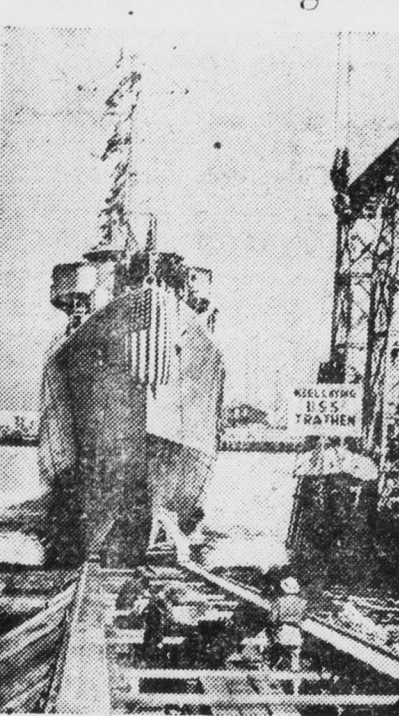

When Satan after a long struggle finally had Christ's body laid away in the tomb, he thought he had the victory, but just then came his great hour of defeat.

"Up from the grave he arose,
With a mighty triumph o'er His foes."
"Death could not hold its prey," for it sought to hold one stronger than itself—the Lord of Life Himself. He had broken the bonds of sin by His sacrifice on Calvary; of the law which brought death in the first place (Gen. 2:17; 3:17-19), there was now a complete victory over both sin and death.

The one who knows Christ need no longer fear death. For him it is not a leap into the dark, or going as a trembling wayfarer into an unknown land. President John Quincy Adams was right when, aged and frail, he replied to a question as to his welfare: "Quite well, thank you. The house in which I live is tottering and trembling, and I may soon have to move out, but I am quite well." He was ready for the departure into a better land and a better body.

Such a hope has a splendid practical application, which Paul stresses in verse 58. With victorious assurance the believer stands steadfast and unmoved at the center of life, while always abounding in the joys and duties which come at its circumference. Like the wheel which can be useful only as its center is established and steady, so man can serve the Lord and enjoy the steadfastness of which Paul here speaks. We trust that it is your possession by faith in Christ. If not, make it so on this resurrection Sunday!

The Winner!

Young America

Modern knowledge of nutrition, and modern cooking methods are producing stronger Americans!

Young America is truly the winner of the benefits of modern knowledge of foods and food preparation. The American child of today gets a better start toward a healthy life than his parents did, an incredibly better one than his grandparents. Even with vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates, in delicious, well-cooked food that he likes to eat. Even though his mother has to budget more carefully, buy less expensive foods than she formerly bought, with her modern cooking appliances, and her skill at cookery, she need not lower the nourishment value of the food she places before her family.

When a Child Need a Laxative!

Your child should like this tasty liquid laxative and you should like the gentle way it usually wakes up a youngster's lazy intestines when given by the simple directions.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT contains the same principal ingredient which has enabled its older brother BLACK-DRAUGHT to give so many users such satisfying relief for so many years!

Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief when the familiar symptoms indicate a laxative is needed.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT comes in 2 sizes. The introductory size is 25c; the economy size is 50c.

Bethany News

Bethany, March 31.—Mrs. P. O. Paulette, Emmitt, Carolyn, Hazel, "Red," and Phyllis Paulette, died Mrs. Edward Moore of Charlotte Court House Thursday night.

Private Newton Jennings, of the U. S. Army spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Ruth Jennings.

Curtis Paulette was home for the weekend.

Miss Thalia Harvey, of Lynchburg was home last week-end.

Mrs. Mildred Clark, who has been sick, is improving.

Miss Etta Ransom is on the sick list.

There is a group of your fellow citizens deserving of unanimous support. They are the men and women serving on the various city and county committees. Especially in the rural areas, the citizens making a canvas of their neighborhood for scrap metals and paper, for Defense Bonds and Stamps, for soybean production, for many other war-effort projects, do so at a personal sacrifice. They are working on these committees because they are fighting to maintain the American way of life, over death.

Make their canvas as easy as possible.

MILITARY POWER

Something can be learned of the reasons why nations are defeated in war, by reading the testimony at the trials now proceeding in France, to determine who was responsible for the terrible defeat and collapse of that country. One commander testified that a general attitude existed in that country that the army was a costly instrument for which there was no further use.

There also existed a strong feeling in the United States, following the first world war, that the country need never again prepare for war, and that the army could be kept small, with very limited equipment. Such scanty military and naval preparation now has landed us in war up to our necks. Most of the army has had to be newly trained, and our equipment has been woefully inadequate.

Even assuming that Germany and Japan are beaten, it will not be possible for the United States to disarm. When the Germans and Japanese people will follow implicitly leaders that drag them into the hell of war, the peacetime nation will have to be prepared to fight.

It may be necessary to destroy the armament factories in Germany and Japan, and keep military forces stationed there for years. So long as the rulers of some nations conceive the idea that they can conquer foreign countries and force them to work in subjection to their conquerors, the peaceful countries should be ready to fight for freedom and peace.

The boys who are now coming home will probably have to reconcile themselves, after the present war is over, to the necessity of military training for a year or more. Our armed forces should always have at their command military equipment and personnel for years. So long as the rulers of some nations conceive the idea that they can conquer foreign countries and force them to work in subjection to their conquerors, the peaceful countries should be ready to fight for freedom and peace.

SOUNDS SENSIBLE

After a father had paid his son's way through college, the young man proposed that he be sent through Harvard law school.

There's an appeal that's worthy of a response—a big response. Most of us know at least one boy in a training camp. A letter now and then would not be much trouble and I'm sure it would be appreciated. Here's an idea: Get the names of boys from your neighborhood and write them what's happened around about you since they left. Just ordinary gossip that doesn't get into the home town newspaper. Maybe you won't receive many answers, but your efforts will be worth while anyway. It takes so little time, too.

A letter now and then would not be much trouble and I'm sure it would be appreciated. Here's an idea: Get the names of boys from your neighborhood and write them what's happened around about you since they left. Just ordinary gossip that doesn't get into the home town newspaper. Maybe you won't receive many answers, but your efforts will be worth while anyway. It takes so little time, too.

There's an appeal that's worthy of a response—a big response. Most of us know at least one boy in a training camp.
